ROUTLEDGE

KEGAN PAUL

THE INFIDEL EMPEROR

By PAUL WIEGLER. 16 plates, 16s. net.

The turmoil of the thirteenth century, with its feudal squabbings, its bestial cruelties, the religion of St. Francis, its endless treacheries and sublime devotion, with St. Thomas Aquinas and Albertus Magnus, St. Louis of France and the infidel Emperor himself, Frederick II, are described here in an apt chronological-style. Whether as history or literature this will rank among the books that count in 1930.

THE LIFE OF MAHOMET

By E. DERMENGHEM. 15s. net.

Few books enlarge our vision of the past so mysteriously and yet so simply as this. It carries us back to Mecca in the seventh century, where religion was despised and wealth worshipped, until a certain excellent business man had revelations, and became Mahomet.

THE MEMOIRS OF CASANOVA

Translated by ARTHUR MACHEN. Two vols., 750 pages, 25s. net the set.

The cream of the Memoirs is here offered in the best translation, with connecting links by G. D. Gribble, an authority on Casanova. This is a fine popular edition of a classic of autobiography and a masterpiece of narrative and description. "These wonderful memoirs."—Sunday Times. "These important human documents."—Saturday Review.

LORENZO THE MAGNIFICENT

By DAVID LOTH. 12 plates, 15s. net.

Florence in the glory of her art, Christianity in the depths of corruption, mankind in a frank revelation of its desires, are the lurid background to Lorenzo de' Medici. This brilliant biography recreates the man and his period. "Saturated with colour and aglow with sentiment. The narrative never falters."—Daily Telegraph.

MEMOIRS OF GRAMONT

By ANTHONY HAMILTON. 20 plates, 15s. net.

A fine new translation—the first for over 100 years—by Peter Quennell, a critical introduction and elaborate commentary by Cyril Hughes Hartmann, and an excellent selection of portraits, make this the definitive edition of a literary and historical masterpiece. The Memoirs give an intimate and somewhat scandalous picture of the Court of Charles II.

THE FLOOD

By HAROLD PEAKE, M.A., F.S.A. 11 illustrations, 5s. net.

A full account of the Biblical and other legends of the Flood, reviewed in the light of recent archaeological research in Mesopotamia and elsewhere.

SHORT HISTORY OF SCOTLAND

By GEORGE MALCOLM THOMSON. 4 maps, 10s. 6d. net.

"A real history of the mind, heart, and soul of a people. An altogether admirable book which no student of British history can afford to miss."—Sunday Times.

LIFE IN THE PACIFIC 50 YEARS AGO

By Professor A. P. MAUDSLAY. 2 plates, 10s. 6d. net.

"Written in so light-hearted a fashion that it leaves the reader wishing there was more. We specially value the description of life on the Pacific Islands at a stage which has now irrevocably passed away."—Saturday Review.

FIVE TYPES OF ETHICAL THEORY

By C. D. BROAD, Litt.D. 15s. net.

This critical account of the ethical theories of five great moralists, Spinoza, Butler, Hume, Kant, and Sidgwick, ranks among the most important contributions to ethics of recent years. Throughout the book the author develops his own views, and makes clear the fundamental problems.

THE HEROIC AGE OF INDIA

By Professor N. K. SIDHANTA. 12s. 6d.

"A valuable contribution. The Heroic Age is an epoch in practically all races and cultures. . . . The Mahabharata is his principal quarry; the heroes of that epic seem near to us. With their drinking and love-making, their chivalry and brutality, they are of the schoolboy age of humanity. It is a delightful world to which he transports us. Not only scholars owe him a debt."—Times Literary Supplement.

"This is indeed a great novel, marked with a deep knowledge of human nature and a wealth of picturesque incident."

—Morning Post.

Otto Babendiek

By GUSTAV FRENSSEN. Translated by HUNTLEY PATERSON. 360 pages. 10s. net

Morning Post: "Frenssen is perhaps the greatest of living German 'regionalists,' his sphere of intensive observation being the North Sea coast of Holstein. The countryside types, good or evil but all intensified, are admirably depicted, at times with a sort of Dickensian humour."

Manchester Guardian: "A stimulus is given by the introduction of the War, and there are descriptions which suggest the awful conditions of demoralisation as its end approached. The story has a sincere and solemn close."

Ralph Straus's
High Praise for a
First Novel

Tide House

By MAUDE C. PERRY. 7s. 6d. net

Sunday Times: "An extraordinary book for a woman to have written. There are faults in it, but, except for the last chapter (though I am quite prepared to be told that this is founded on actual fact) it reads like the stark truth. The story of Matthew's rise to fortune is certainly grim. His father was a crook, and blackmail plays its part in his own career. Yet he never becomes the criminal of the books; he is never a type. You understand why he blackmails the ruffianly grocer, and you can understand why he is forced to fight a lone battle. He is just the man, too, to fall 'madly' in love with the worthless Kittie, whose power over him does not grow less after his marriage to Bruna. I am doubtful only about that last most terrible scene. Would even the ruthless Bruna have done what she did, to get her husband for all time? In any case, the story has a weird attraction of its own. It is bold and forthright and with a touch of originality."

"A mystery tale that really mystifies."

—Times Literary Supplement.

The Shadow Syndicate

A young author becomes entangled in the net of Ringman's, transport contractors, smugglers, and general conspirators, and accepts a curious commission to Estonia. There he is threatened with death, but escaped with secrets that make him either valuable or dangerous to his employers: and through him a political plot is frustrated.

Evolution or Revolution?

India: Peace or War?

By C. S. RANGA IYER, Author of Father India, etc.

7s. 6d. net

Written for the general reader, this book, by a brilliant young Member of the Indian Legislative Assembly, explains how the present crisis has arisen; advocates the granting of Dominion status to India within the Empire; and exposes the fatuity and hypocrisy of the Swaraj extremists.

Foreign Affairs: "Will be the more useful to English readers in that it avoids religious and idealistic discussions, does not seek to explain the soul of India, and takes an objective standpoint in dealing with recent events. A most excellent book for the general reader: certainly one of the most useful on India that has yet been published."

Spectator: "Should be read with attention."

A Practical Empire Policy

Imperial Economic Unity

By LORD MELCHETT (President, Empire Economic Union).

Third Large Impression. 2s. 6d. net.

Mr. Baldwin in his Hotel Cecil speech: "There is no alternative to a vision of the economic unity of our Empire except its ultimate dissolution."

Readers of "The Nation" will probably disagree with both Mr. Baldwin and Lord Melchett. But unless they have a full knowledge of the latter's contentions and the facts on which he bases them, they obviously cannot discuss the question.

A Searchlight on Europe

Europe in Zigzags

By SISLEY HUDDLESTON.

Illustrated. 21s. net

Observer: "Not only is this a very pleasant book to read, but its political judgments carry weight. He is concerned in the main with Germany, Austria, Italy, and Spain, with interesting excursions in other directions, and it is putting it moderately to say that his readers will close the book with a more vivid conception and a more intelligent grasp of Continental actualities than they possessed on beginning it."

Spain

By Professor E. ALLISON PEERS. A Kitbag Travel Book. 7s. 6d. net

Nation: "No better guide could have been chosen as the author of this little volume. Professor Peers is an authority on the language, literature, history, and country of Spain. He has used his knowledge admirably here, and the traveller could not use a better handbook."

A Remarkable Biography
THE REIGN OF THE EMPEROR
FRANCIS JOSEPH
KARL TSCHUPPIK

This book is both a history of Imperial Austria from 1848 and a biography of the great Hapsburg monarch—a spartan and impressive figure, whose lifelong struggle against the rising tide of the national aspirations of half-a-dozen subject peoples finally became the match which set the World War alight. The author, who is new to English readers, is himself an Austrian, and comes of a family which served the Empire for six generations. Prof. R. W. Seton-Watson contributes an Historical Note on Europe in 1848.

COSTUME THROUGHOUT THE AGES

By MARY EVANS, Assistant Professor in Household Arts, Teachers' College, Columbia University. 15s. Miss Evans, whose study of costumes has been a long and careful one, presents their history from the earliest time showing how dress has evolved through each age and country. Coloured Frontispiece and 210 other illustrations.

OLD PATCHWORK QUILTS AND THE WOMEN WHO MADE THEM

By RUTH E. FINLEY.

21s.

It is the first adequate and definite record of patchwork quilts in America, one of the loveliest and most decorative of Colonial folk arts. The book contains complete directions for making quilts, with 100 diagrams. Over 90 illustrations.

FOOD PURCHASING FOR THE HOME

By RUETTA DAY BLINKS, M.A., and WILLETTA MOORE, M.S. Lippincott's Home Manuals series. 400 pages. Illustrated. 12s. 6d.

CLOTHING FOR WOMEN

Selection and Construction by LAURA I. BALDT. With 9 Colour Plates and 367 Text Illustrations. Lippincott's Home Manuals series. 12s. 6d.

Right up to the minute and containing all that it is necessary to know with regard to the selection and construction of women's clothes.

HOUSEWIFERY

A Manual and Text-Book of Practical Housekeeping. By LYDIA RAY BALDERSTON, A.M. Lippincott's Home Manuals Series. 179 Illustrations in text. Fourth Edition, Revised. 12s. 6d.

This handbook of practical housekeeping is offered to women in the hope that it may show in some measure how to reduce tasks in the home and how to save time, money and energy.

SUCCESSFUL CANNING AND PRESERVING

By OLA M. MALCOLM (POWELL). Lippincott's Home Manuals Series. Fourth Edition. Entirely rewritten and reset. 12s. 6d.

THE GARDENER'S BEDBOOK

Short and Long Pieces to be read in Bed by those who love the Green Growing Things of Earth, from the Country Journals. By RICHARDSON WRIGHT, author of "Hawkers and Walkers in Early America." 10s. 6d.

Like the night breeze, sometimes pungent, sometimes restful, comes this fresh and unusual book to be read after good-night is said. Frontispiece and decorative end papers.

MYTHS AND LEGENDS OF FLOWERS, TREES, FRUITS AND PLANTS

By CHARLES M. SKINNER. New and Revised Edition. Illustrated. 12s. 6d.

Here are gathered in one compendious volume, alphabetically arranged, the legends of flowers, trees, fruits, and plants of all countries and all ages.

PSYCHOLOGY FROM THE STANDPOINT OF A BEHAVIOURIST

By JOHN B. WATSON. Third New and Revised Edition. 12s. 6d. The study of behaviourism, the new psychology, based on natural science, which is affecting every branch of modern thought to-day. It will show you how to direct and control your own actions through an understanding of the behaviour of others.

TROUBLES WE DON'T TALK ABOUT

By J. F. MONTAGUE, M.D. Illustrated. Second Edition, Revised and Enlarged. 8s.

This book tells about the troubles we don't talk about even to one's physician, at least until it can be put off no longer. The author takes care to tell us the things we want to know, what can and cannot be done to relieve or cure distressing conditions brought about by faulty personal hygiene or other conditions that false modesty prevents being properly cured.

HOW TO USE YOUR MIND

By HARRY D. KITSON, Ph.D. Third Edition. Thoroughly revised and reset. 8s.

Explains: How to take notes properly; How to memorise readily; How to concentrate easily; How to reason logically; and How to express with facility.

Geoffrey Bles

In "NEW WORLDS TO CONQUER" (16s. net), RICHARD HALLIBURTON, the young author of "The Royal Road to Romance" and "The Glorious Adventure," describes his adventures in "rediscovering" America by following in the tracks of the early explorers, Columbus, Cortez, Pizarro, and others. He flew to San Salvador, where Columbus first landed; climbed to the crater of Mt. Popocatepetl; dived down 70 feet into the famous Well of Death in Yucatan; swam the Panama Canal from end to end; lived like Robinson Crusoe on his island; and, as a voluntary prisoner, saw for himself the horrors of the French penal settlement on Devil's Island, of which he says all that can be said—and printed!

On the day of publication "NEW WORLDS TO CONQUER" had a wonderful "Press." The Daily Mail, in a long notice, quoted the author's account of how, as the ss. Halliburton, he swam the fifty-mile length of the Panama Canal; and the Daily Express and the Daily Chronicle concentrated on his exposure of the horrors of Devil's Island. As the Morning Post says, "NEW WORLDS TO CONQUER" is "one of the most amazing books of adventure that we have ever read."

"An amazing story of murder, corrupt politics and smuggling on a gigantic scale is told in this extraordinary book," says the Daily Mail reviewer of "LOOK AT CHICAGO!" (10s. 6d. net), by EDWARD SULLIVAN, who describes the desperate feuds which have sprung up between rival gangs of "bootleggers." A typical hero of this warfare was Dion O'Banion, who made the fatal mistake of selling to his confrère, Al Capone, a brewery which a few days later was raided by the police. . . . Dion's subsequent funeral, which was attended by le haut monde of his profession, was conspicuous for its extreme simplicity. There were only twenty-six truck-loads of wreaths, and no single wreath cost more than $5,000.

By the way, I have noticed a big and increasing demand for "THE RED ARCHIVES" (16s. net), by C. E. VULLIAMY. This is a most interesting book, for it gives authentic documents from the Russian State Papers from 1915 to 1918, and has an introduction by Dr. Hagberg Wright, the Librarian of the London Library. As the Daily News says, "This is a volume for which, in its unprejudiced English edition, the historian will be deeply grateful."

"PRESIDENT MASARYK" (7s. 6d. net), by C. J. C. STREET, is a biography of one of the greatest figures in contemporary history—the man who began life as the son of a blacksmith and became the founder of the new republic of Czecho-Slovakia. As Mr. Wickham Steed wrote in a long review in the Observer, "Than this story, the annals of the War offer none more thrilling."

"VAGABONDS AND PUPPETS" (7s. 6d. net) is a charming book by WALTER WILKINSON, the author of "The Peep-Show," of which D. H. Lawrence said, "To me, a book like 'The Peep-Show' reveals England better than twenty novels written by clever young ladies and gentlemen." The author is a young artist who tramps the roads of Southern England with a puppet-show of his own making, and at night sleeps under the stars in his little tent. In "VAGABONDS AND PUPPETS" he tells of his experiences on the highways, his encounters with simple village folk, and his camping places by wood or valley or stream. Yes, a beautiful little book, which has already received high praise from the Observer, the Morning Post ("It is wholly delightful, and would have been enjoyed by R. L. S.") and the Daily Telegraph ("This is a book of rare fascination, romantic, picturesque and yet entirely actual . . . told with a charm that would have delighted George Borrow himself."). Also, it has been praised in the Evening Standard by Mr. Arnold Bennett, who says that he prefers a Punch and Judy Show to the Theatre.

Have you read JOHN RHODE'S new book, "PERIL AT CRANBURY HALL"? If not, do ask your Library for it as soon as possible, because you will certainly enjoy it. As the Times Literary Supplement says, "John Rhode stands in the front rank of writers of detective fiction," and this is one of his best books. Incidentally, it will recall to many readers a famous criminal case, which still remains an unsolved mystery.

Another mystery novel which you will enjoy is "THE DEAD MOUSE," by AUSTEN ALLEN, which the Sunday Express calls—quite rightly!—"a detective story for the real connoisseur."

Did you see the fine review of NETTA SYRETT'S great novel, "PORTRAIT OF A REBEL" in The Tatler? This is what Mr. Richard King wrote about it: "It is undoubtedly one of the very best novels I have read this year. . . . Netta Syrett has written a very human, a very interesting, and a very lovable story. A novel which it would be a misfortune to miss."

Last June I published W. F. MORRIS'S "BRETHERTON," which Mr. J. C. Squire, in the London Mercury, calls "undoubtedly the best of the English War-books." This month I am publishing "THE PATRIOT'S PROGRESS," by HENRY WILLIAMSON, the author of "Tarka the Otter," with pictures by William Kermode. This is a book which will take a place of its own in the literature of the War. Its price is 10s. 6d. net, and there is also a Limited Edition of 350 signed copies at £2 2s. net, which is already over-subscribed.

In 2 Vols. Demy 8vo. 21s. the Set.

THE STUDENT'S CHURCH HISTORY: Part I.

By the REV. CHARLES HART, B.A.

A brief practical history of the Church from the beginnings to the Edict of Constantine. No mere dry-as-dust record of facts and dates: the author has attempted to portray the conditions of daily Christian life, and to make the Fathers, Saints, and other figures of early Church history into real people.

Duxceen Boards. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d.

THE LIVES OF THE SAINTS

By ALBAN BUTLER. Revised and copiously augmented by HERBERT THURSTON, S.J. Volume II. February.

This new edition of Butler's famous Lives has been almost entirely rewritten. Lives of all those who have been Beatified or Canonised, since Butler's day, are included.

Demy 8vo. 7s. 6d.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MARK

By the VERY REV. M. J. LAGRANGE, O.P., of the Biblical Institute at Jerusalem.

Père Lagrange's renown as a Biblical critic is world-wide: his editions of the Gospels represent the mature fruit of Catholic Scholarship. This translation of his shorter edition of St. Mark, with its critical and historical Introduction, and copious annotations, is the first to appear in English.

Stranger than Fiction!BRITISH HISTORY*By RAMSAY MUIRAuthor of "A Short History of the British Commonwealth," etc., etc.*

With its human, living characters, dominating factors and sequences of startling events, no educated man or woman can fail to respond to the story of the Nation's past. Here is an entirely new survey of the History of the British Peoples—a single continuous narrative, terse, vivid, clear and of absorbing interest. Into it are woven the stories of Scotland, Ireland, the Dominions and the Colonies, and also—up to a point—the history of America, as part of the story of England.
